

"UNLOCKING INNOVATION AND SOCIAL ENTERPRISE TO TACKLE POVERTY"

What are the new opportunities for enterprising Australians and organisations emerging from the dynamic social changes in our region?

MONDAY 12 OCTOBER 2015, 5PM TO 7PM
MURAL HALL, PARLIAMENT HOUSE

Come and hear from Oxfam's Australian and global experts on emerging opportunities to use innovation to address complex social problems in the Asia-Pacific region.

SPEAKERS

Dr Helen Szoke

Chief Executive, Oxfam Australia
Former Race Discrimination Commissioner
Former Equal Opportunity Commissioner, Victoria

James Whitehead, MBA

Oxfam Global Innovation Adviser, United Kingdom
Experience in Syria, Yemen, Cambodia and Swaziland

ABOUT OXFAM

One person in three in the world lives in poverty. Oxfam is determined to change that world by mobilising the power of people against poverty.

Around the globe, Oxfam works to find practical, innovative ways for people to lift themselves out of poverty and thrive. We save lives and help rebuild livelihoods when crisis strikes. And we campaign so that the voices of the poor influence the local and global decisions that affect them.

In all we do, Oxfam works with partner organisations and alongside vulnerable women and men to end the injustices that cause poverty.

Oxfam Australia, a partner of the Australian Government, is an independent, not-for-profit, international development agency. We have more than 550,000 supporters in Australia who contribute skills, time and financial support to advance our work.

Image: Father of two Gede Sudarma has worked for Oxfam producer partner Bali Zen for more than ten years. Gede is the lead craftsmen in developing new products — traditionally he would have found it difficult to find work in Bali as his fingers were malformed at birth. Photo: Lara McKinley/OxfamAUS.

OXFAM
Australia